

working with your design team to create effective solutions

We can devise spatial solutions from scratch, use client instructions, or survey existing space and equipment for evaluation and development.

Our hugely experienced engineers will interpret the best use of space to match performance ability, budget and revenue objectives at almost any stage of a project.

We map out the groundwork with detailed 2D schematics which can then be brought to life using advanced 3D animated visualisations. Virtual full colour walk-throughs, flyovers, and stills negate the need for prototyping and show how closed and open spaces will work on project completion.

Oaksmere position plant, both internal and external, for operational suitability and cost, and we are happy to undertake total resolution of any Building Regulations approval, and liaise with landlords where alterations are required.
